

ANALEKTA

ANGÈLE DUBEAU & LA PIETÀ SIGNATURE PHILIP GLASS

Global Release of the Album on November 3

“After my album Portrait: Philip Glass, released in 2008, I wanted to dive back into the colossal work of this iconic composer of our time. His work has and will continue to have an impact on musical life for a long time to come. Glass’s music has always fascinated me. It captivates me and, for many years, has nourished me and made me grow intellectually and musically,” she emphasizes.

October 6, 2023– Today, violinist Angèle Dubeau presents Opening (Glassworks), the first single from the album Angèle Dubeau & La Pietà SIGNATURE Philip Glass. Fifteen years after paying tribute to the great composer as part of her series of Portrait albums dedicated to current composers, she is once again focusing on Philip Glass and will release her 48th album on November 3.

Having finished her album Portrait Philip Glass in 2008 with Closing, it is now with Opening that Angèle Dubeau begins this new opus. The minimalist loop continues...

Link: <https://lnk.to/SignaturePhilipGlass>

ABOUT ANGÈLE DUBEAU

With the same passion and equal generosity, Angèle Dubeau has led an exceptional international career for 46 years. If, over the years, her talent, her virtuosity, and her musicality have been rewarded with numerous prizes, it is first and foremost the public who adopted her for her captivating playing, her generosity, her enthusiasm, her unparalleled communicative gifts and her exceptional ability to build relationships with them. The virtuoso violinist is also one of the rare classical musicians in the world to have received Gold Records. To date, she has recorded 48 albums, sold hundreds of thousands, and has over 200 million streams of her entire body of work.

ABOUT PHILIP GLASS

Through his operas, his symphonies, his compositions for his own ensemble and his numerous collaborations with artists ranging from Twyla Tharp to Allen Ginsberg, from Leonard Cohen to David Bowie, Philip Glass has had an extraordinary and unprecedented impact on the musical world and intellectual. He is considered one of the most influential composers of the late 20th century.

IN CONCERT

Angèle Dubeau & La Pietà will be in concert on November 27 at the Maison symphonique, a unique event which brings together selected works by Angèle Dubeau, Philip Glass and Ludovico Einaudi. You will hear excerpts from this new album as well as key works by these exceptional composers.